Gamification & Digital Tools

QW

Overview:

Online dialogue sessions connecting students from the EU and Western Balkans to discuss European identity, rights, and civic challenges.

Description of the practice

The VirtuEU project is a scalable, cost-effective, and easily implementable method of teaching EU citizenship through virtual exchange and online collaboration.

Live interactions and structured discussions foster active citizenship, while its flexibility allows integration into VET curricula or extracurricular activities.

Why is this approach useful?

Highly effective way to teach EU matters because it provides a digital, accessible, and engaging platform for students across different EU and Western Balkan countries to develop a deeper understanding of European values, active citizenship, and democratic participation.

How to make this approach successful?

- Live interactions and structured discussions fosters active citizenship
- Flexibility allows integration into VET curricula or extracurricular activities.

Target group:

Students with age range if available, teachers, specific VET fields.

Duration of the activity:

Multi-session across weeks. Flexible (10 min to full lesson).

Transferability Tip:

Use simple tools like Zoom and Miro; link sessions to class topics.

Why is it a quick win?

It is a scalable, cost-effective, and easily implementable method of teaching EU citizenship through virtual exchange and online collaboration.
